

Free & Open Source Assets

Free & open source licenses permit you to modify and use assets, even commercially - for free. Below is a list of great free & open source assets!

Open Clip Art Library

openclipart.org

Open Clip Art Library has a searchable library filled exclusively with Public Domain graphics, importable directly from inside Inkscape.

Open Font Library

openfontlibrary.org

All of the fonts in the Open Font Library are free software, mostly the OFL license. In many cases the source files for the fonts are available, too!

Jamendo

jamendo.org

Providing Creative Commons musicians with a place to share their work with the world, Jamendo is a great place to find great music.

Freesound

freesound.org

Check full of Creative Commons licensed sound samples, Freesound has a large repository of downloadable sounds you can use for free!

Creative Commons

search.creativecommons.org

The Creative Commons search engine lets you search the web for CC-licensed media including images, videos, music, and other media.

Wikimedia Commons

commons.wikimedia.org

Varied types of media under a variety of open licenses (mostly CC and public domain) are available here.

CCMixer

ccmixter.org

Just download and enjoy the library of CC-licensed music, or import it into your favorite editing program and post a remix!

Blend Swap

blendswap.com

Blend Swap is a collaborative library where Blender 3D artists share their models under Creative Commons licenses.

Open Game Art

opengameart.org

Game sprites, UI widgets, and other artwork delights can be had at Open Game Art. All freely-licensed.

The League of Moveable Type

theleagueofmoveabletype.com

Beautifully-curated, Open Font Licensed fonts in a variety of styles - new fonts are added on a regular basis.

About Asset Licenses Or, "Are these really free?"

There are so many licenses for free assets! You have to be careful - they may or may not allow for commercial use, modifying the work, or re-distributing the work to other people. In Fedora, we only include software and assets that can be used commercially, modified, and shared.

Below is a listing of licenses that Fedora considers acceptable for content / assets. If you'd like to share your work to benefit free software and others, please consider using one of these licenses:

- Creative Commons Attribution license (CC-BY)
- Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike (CC-BY-SA)
- Creative Commons Attribution-NoDerivs (CC-BY-ND)
- Creative Commons Zero 1.0 Universal (CC0)
- Design Science License (DSL)
- Distributed Management Task Force License (DMTF)
- EFF Open Audio License v1 (OAL)
- Ethymonics Free Music License (EFML)
- Free Art License (Free Art)
- GeoGratis Licence Agreement (GeoGratis)
- GNU General Public License (GPL) (for fonts, should have font exception.)
- LinuxTag Green OpenMusic License (Green OpenMusic)
- SIL Open Font License 1.1 (OFL)

Learn More...

We've got more info on these licenses and have even more licenses on our website:

<https://fedoraproject.org/wiki/Licensing>

